INSURANCE MEN TO HEAR "KICKS"

MISSOURI INSPECTION BUREAU WILL SEND ENGINEERS AGAIN.

HERE PROBABLY TUESDAY

Chamber of Commerce Arrange Visit to Adjust Rate Increases Called Excessive.

Policy holders who think the new insurance rates on Maryville property are excessive will have a chance to register their protests next week with representatives of the Missouri Inspection Bureau, through which the new rates were put into effect. Two of the bureau's best engineers will be sent here next Tuesday or Wednesday to hear complaints and make needed adjustments.

The visit of the engineers was arranged by Secretary George A. Pickens of the Chamber of Commerce and C. W. Yehle, who returned from St. Louis this morning. They left here last Wednesday.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce, they called upon the Missouri Inspection Bureau, showed them the protests published in the papers here and asked that the bureau send representatives to deal direct with the aggrieved persons. No attempt was made to get reductions or better ratings without another inspection.

"Mr. Moss, the manager in charge was delighted to have a chance to help us get better conditions, stated that in sending Mr. Bock and Mr. Gill he was sending two of his best engineers, men capable of handling any phase of the problems," Mr. Pickens said.

Insurance rates for many Maryville business concerns were boosted after an inspection early in May. A few reductions were made, but these were, for the most part, but a few cents, while the increases added as much as $1.25. Local insurance agents and property owners alike have joined as denouncing the increases as an outrage. They say that after promising reductions if improvements were made in the water plant, the bureau's rate increases were without justification.

It is estimated that the rate increases will cost the people of Maryville about $20,000 a year. Rates are now higher than in nearby towns, which are without fire protections.

MRS. JOHN RICKMAN IS SAFE AFTER PUEBLO FLOOD

Her Son, a Railroad Man, Had to Walk Home From Canyon City —Arrived Safe.

A letter was received today by Mrs. Henry Thorp of this city from Mrs. John Rickman of Pueblo, Colo., in which she writes about the flood there. She states her family is safe.

In her letter Mrs. Rickman writes:

"I suppose you are wondering if we are drowned or what has become of us. I am glad to say we are all safe as none of us lived in the flood district. I was awfully worried about my son, Lawrence, for a few days for he went Friday evening on his run from here to Canyon City and we never heard anything from him until Sunday night. He and another railroad man walked all the way home.

"This is sure a sad sight. So many people left homeless and they don't know yet how many are drowned. They find some every day and perhaps some will never be found. The business part of the town is all torn up. All of the best stores are gone. Some of them were just cleaned out, all of the goods and everything being washed away while there were others that have some of the goods buried in mud and water.

"We went through the main streets today and it doesn't look like they could ever get the streets cleared off again.

"The churches and the school houses are open to the homeless and they are getting good care and plenty to eat. We could see people trying to get their furniture and bedding out of the mud and water.

"Tell my friends that we are O. K."

To Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Garrett, Mrs. W. O. Garrett, Miss Gertrude Garrett, Miss Norma Randall and Arthur Garrett will motor to Des Moines, Ia. tomorrow for a several day's visit. They will also attend the Shrine imperial council which will be held there Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

CROPS ARE ABOVE AVERAGE IN STATE

NODAWAY'S YIELDS WILL BE BETTER THAN OTHER COUNTIES.

CORN IS 92 PER CENT

Wheat Here Is 87 Per Cent, But Oats Only 75 Per Cent Report Shows.

Jefferson City, June 11.—The farmers in Nodaway county say wheat is 87 per cent condition and that corn is 92 per cent of a full crop at this time. The acreage of oats sown in Nodaway county this year was 30,530 and the present condition is 75 per cent. They further report the condition of all hay as 63 per cent, and of pastures as 87 per cent.

Missouri farmers in 1921 have 11,177,000 acres of small grain and corn in crops against 10,665,000 in 1920 according to the preliminary acreage estimates of E. A. Logan, Agricultural Statistician for Missouri, and Jewell Mayes, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

Missouri wheat on 2,764,000 acres is 82 per cent of a full crop indicating 14.3 bushels per acre totaling 40,769,000 bushels against 32,500,000 last year and a 5-year average of 38,402,000. Wheat has suffered some during May from dry weather, following too much rain in April. Many complaints are heard of thin stands and short heads. Rust is reported in Macon, Johnson, Henry, Cass, Bates, Moniteau, Miller, Maries, Cole, Laclede, St. Charles, Lincoln, Warren, Gasconade, Dade, Jasper, Greene, Taney, Cape Girardeau, Scott; Hessian fly in Ray, Chariton, Macon, Randolph, Jackson, Lafayette, Lewis, Ralls and Pike, Bates, Henry, Saline, Osage, Maries, Howard, Cooper, Cole, Callaway, Perry, Montgomery, Lincoln, Jefferson, Franklin and Dade with Chinch bugs in Chariton, Carroll, Shelby, Scotland, Ralls, Pike, Marion, Lewis, Cass, Henry, Bates, Callaway, Maries, Lincoln, Franklin, Jefferson, Perry, Cape Girardeau, Dade and Stone; also Army Worms in St. Charles and joint worms in Franklin county.

Oats were sown on 1,846,000 acres and June condition of 77 per cent indicates a yield of 25 bushels per acre with total of 46,150,000 bushels against 54,138,000 last year. The June condition of oats is the lowest for several years, the 10-year average being 83 and the condition of 1920 was 86. Dry weather in May prevented proper growth so that many crops are weedy and short. Ripening of different fields in the same sections will be uneven because of re-seeding. The poorest conditions are in the northern third of the state.

Spring wheat was seeded on 14,000 acres and condition of 81 indicates 13 bushels per acre, total of 182,000. Less interest manifested in spring wheat than during war time. Barley on 8,000 acres at 92 indicates 25 bushels per acre or 200,000 bushels total. Rye 87 per cent on 45,000 acres indicates 13½ bushels or a total of 608,000 against 600,000 last year.

Meadows needed rain at the close of May and were short and weedy and too dry in most sections for timothy. Condition of all hay is 78. Clover and alfalfa have not recovered from freezes and clover for hay on 186,000 acres is 75 per cent and alfalfa on 154,000 is 74. Cowpeas 87 with both cowpea and soybean seeding not yet completed. Pastures 90 per cent with good growth generally except in a few instances bluegrass headed short.

Gardens made improvement during the month. Beans 82, cabbages 83, onions 93. Potatoes have good growth of vines and need of moisture has been relieved by recent showers. Fruit is a failure in Missouri with only a few apples remaining with no peaches nor pears. Blackberries and raspberries are 80 per cent condition.

United States condition of winter wheat 77.9 indicates 578,196,000 bushels. Spring wheat 93.4 forecasting 251,289,000, with total wheat production of 829,485,000 bushels. Spring wheat was sown on a less acreage than last year and winter wheat dropped 50 million bushels in condition from May to June. Oats condition in the United States 85.7, should yield 1,404,902,000 bushels which is slightly less than last year, but about the usual yield for this crop in recent years. Apples throughout the country are 41 per cent of a crop, principally located in New York, New England and the northwest, with peaches at 45 per cent, confined largely to Georgia, New York and other northern states.

"GENTLEMEN BUMS" OF M. U. PROGRESS AS FAR AS CUBA

Horace Felton and College Chums Ship on Ocean Going Freighter From Philadelphia

Horace Felton, Parnell youth who with two companions from the University of Missouri is seeing the World on a combined capital of $11, has progressed as far as Cuba, a recent letter to his parents says.

The boys "bummed" their way from Columbia to Chicago and from there to Philadelphia, where they signed as hands on an ocean going freighter.

"Of all the countries under the moon" says Felton "this one is the limit. There is a bunch of little islands all covered with palm trees and natives huts—and mosquitoes. They are going to take on a cargo of sugar, so they say, and there are rumors that we will go anywhere from South America to the Orient and Europe with it.

"Say, you couldn't imagine the experiences that a fellow has," he continues. "You meet some of the darndest fellows. When they get together and talk, which is about three times a day and all evening, you hear stories from every part of the world. The ship has got an awfully good bunch of a crew—crude and rough, but all good hearted, and just as jolly as can be. I thought they would kid us about our ignorance of the sea, but everyone helps us out."

Felton was sea-sick the first day or so out, but now considers himself an old salt. He has been promoted to oiler and is now a petty officer.

MAPEL AND CONDON WIN OVER PICKENS AND MILLER

Last Terms' Tennis Champs at College—Will Play Bland and Miller for Summer Title.

William Mapel and Ora May Condon defeated Paul Pickens and Ruth Miller in the semi-finals of the mixed doubles tournament at the College yesterday afternoon, 6-3 4-6 6-2. All of sets were fast and full of pep but the winners played lobs to the back lines won by out-judging their opponents.

Miss Condon played exceptionally good tennis for the winning team and Miss Miller was also very fast and accurate. There were few service aces and every point had to be played for before it was won.

Their victory entitles Mapel and Miss Condon to meet Earl Bland and Helen Miller in the finals either today or Monday. Without doubt this will be the fastest match of the tourney.

Miss Condon and Mapel won the mixed doubles this spring by defeating Wave Hulet and Eldon Steiger in the finals of a fast tournament. Bland won the singles matches last summer at the college and his partner is considered one of the best girl players in the school. Should Mapel and Miss Condon win they will have the undisputed title to champions of the school If Bland and Miss Miller win they will hold the championship until the next tournament.

Miss Mary MacLeod, who has charge of the tournament, said yesterday, "I am well pleased with the showing that the players have made. They are playing fast game and I am proud of their work."

CABLE FROM DENBY ORDERS SIMS HOME

SECRETARY OF NAVY REVOKES ADMIRAL'S LEAVE.

REPRIMAND IS EXPECTED

Storm of Censure Aroused by "Jack Ass" Speech in England—Called "Undesirable Alien."

Washington, June 11.—Secretary of Navy Denby sent a cablegram today to Admiral Sims in London, peremptoily ordering him home as a reseut of the series of speeches the head of the naval War College made in England. The cablegram read:

"Remaider of your leave revoked. You will return to Americt at once. Report in person to the Secretary of the Navy. Denby."

Secretary Denby took action without having received a reply to his cabled demand for explanation of the Admiral's utterances.

Washington, June 11.—A resolution declaring Rear Admiral Sims an "undesirable alien" and denying him readmittance to any American port, was introduced in the house late yesterday by Representative Gallivan, Democrat of Massachusetts.

The resolution referred to Rear Admiral Sims as "a foreign born citizen of the United States, but now connected, unhappily and unfortunately, with the naval establishment of this country." On other occasions, it added he had "publicly stated that in case of a war between the United States and Great Britain, one British ship could easily dispose of four or five American ships of corresponding type," and it charged that "Sims has publicly depreciated his superior officers in the naval establishment and the character and quality of the government of this republic."

Sims and Harvey Twins.

Rear Admiral Sims and Ambassador Harvey were described in the Senate by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, as "these 'two gold dust twins' who now represent the government of the United States in England."

Senator Harrison, author of the resolution, adopted yesterday directing the naval committee to investigate Admiral Sims' speech criticising Sinn Fein sympathizers, declared the admiral's speech, and that of Mr. Harvey at the Pilgrim dinner, were "an outrage to red-blooded Americans."

"I hope the senate committee will secure the report that Secretary Denby has demanded from Sims," said Senator Harrison.

"I hope congress will take immediate action if Secretary Denby fails to do anything to him if he was quoted correctly."

Senator Harrison said that Admiral Sims "ought to be got rid of from the navy" if he was quoted accuracely, and he also reiterated his demand for Ambassador Harvely's "recall."

Too Energetic, Says Sims.

London, June 11.—The replay of Rear Admiral Sims to the request of Secretary Denby for an explanation of his speech here Tuesday expresses the opinion of Admiral Sims that some parts of the speech, to which objection had been taken, had been garbled. This was learned unofficially, but on good authority, here today."

In his answer, which is not long, Admiral Sims declares he said nothing in his address which he had not said before in speeches in the United States and in his book.

Sims said:

"Perhaps we have used too energetic adjectives on some occasions, but let us hope that will be amicably explained away."

The admiral paused a moment and then added:

"But I am going on doing the same thing."

Washington, June 11.—Josephus Daniels, ex-secretary of the navy whose difficulties Rear Admiral Sims made naval history, was asked by the International News Service to express his opinion on the latest escapade of the Admiral at London. This message was received today:

"I have no asbestos handy. I would not express myself on anything else."

HOMER CARMICHAEL HEADS DISTRICT 2

OTHERS OFFICERS-ELECT

Banquet at Burlington Junction is Seventh of Series of Successful Gatherings

Homer Carmichael of Burlington Junction was re-elected to head District No. 2 of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association at the annual banquet and institute held at Burlington Junction last night.

Miss Ollie Carpenter, vice-president, and Lee Yaple, secretary and treasurer, were also re-elected. Other officers were chosen as follows: children's division superintendent, Miss Margaret Parker; young people's superintendent, girls: Miss Addie Carpenter; boys, the Rev. F. E. Edwards; adult and home department superintendent, Miss Alice Peters; administration superintendent, James A. Gragg.

The Older Boys and Girls Council elected the following officers: president, Stanley Ferguson, Burlington Junction; vice-president, Nora Fenton, Clearmont; secretary, Esther Monk, Burlington Junction; treasurer Helen Good, Burlington Junction.

The Christian and Methodist churches of Burlington Junction and the Baptist and Methodist churches of Clearmont were represented at the institute, which was one of the most successful of the series of meetings which have been held in the various districts of the county.

Miss Ruth Bookman told of the older girls' camp which is held each year at Lake Geneva. Separate conferences were held by the various officers, each group discussing problems peculiar to their work. No other county in the state, says G. B. Roseberry, president of the county association, has carried out the idea of having the officers meet together for these conferences. There are seven districts in the county and seven such institutes and one conference have been held. Institutes are yet to be held at Elmo and Graham.

To each of the meetings each Sunday school in the district is invited to send its superintendent, secretary, children's division superintendent, young people's superintendents, adult and home department superintendent and administration superintendent.

Forty-three were present at the banquet at the Wabash Hotel. The following Maryville people attended: G. B. Roseberry, R. C. Seal, Miss Bertha Anderson, Mrs. L. E. White, Miss Eva M. Davis, Miss Mabel E. Raines, Miss Ruth Mildred Bookman, William Curl and Lee Meek.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

DEMPSEY WILL OUTWEIGH CARPENTIER BY 15 POUNDS

Salt Lake Puncher Has Worked Off Five Surplus Pounds—Frenchman in Fighting Trim.

By James J. Corbett.
Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.

(Written Expressly for the International News Service).

(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service).

New York, June 10.—Jack Dempsey is going to carry more poundage into the ring against Georges Carpentier July 2 than he has ever carried into a fight before.

Since he won the title from Jess Willard at Toledo, the lad from Salt Lake has reached his full growth. He has broadened out.

When he crawls through the ropes with Carpentier he will weigh between 190 and 195 pounds. I am told, and this will be nearly 10 pounds more than he took into the ring at Toledo when his weight was announced as 187.

With this much poundage on his frame, the champion will have an advantage of between 15 and 20 pounds over Georges Carpentier, whose natural weight hangs close around 170.

Carpentier was weighed—in private—several days ago by Manager Descamps and afterwards at his Manhasset training camp, it was announced he tipped the beam at 172. When he first landed he weighed 175 pounds so he has not lost much weight through his exertions in training to date and when he enters the ring with Dempsey he probably will weigh about the same. His object is to keep his weight as uniform as possible and go into the ring strong, weighing as much as he can without impairing his speed. At 175 pounds, however, no man of Carpentier's build would lose any speed in his footwork.

I do not believe the extra poundage Dempsey will carry will slow him up in the least. He is the right build and age now to carry close to 200 pounds and the extra poundage should merely lend that much weight to his punches.

The weight Dempsey carried when he fought Bill Brennan, compared to his actual weight today shows beyond a doubt that he was in poor condition that night. The official figures given out by the boxing commission credited the champion with but 182 pounds and he certainly did not look to weigh any more. Today Dempsey weighs about 197, which means he has taken off some five pounds since he started working at Atlantic City. When he first arrived there he tipped the beam at 202, but he was a trifle fat around the midsection.

Skidmore News.

Mrs. Aron Linville and Mrs. C. H. Jackson left last Thursday for Columbia, Mo., where they attended the graduation of their daughters, Miss Lucile Linville and Miss Frances Jackson, from Stephens College. They all returned home yesterday morning.

At the semi-annual election of Skidmore Lodge 586, I. O. O. F., held Tuesday evening, Fred Dyson was elected Noble Grand, and Chas. McDaniel Vice Grand.

If someone should tell you that he had made ice cream right here within a few miles of Skidmore, within the past week, using snow instead of ice to do the freezing, you might be tempted to think he was somewhat mistaken—but that is exactly what George Kuntzman did a few days ago. Last winter Mr. Kuntzman, being unable to get ice suitable for storing, put some snow in his ice house and covered it with sawdust. Upon digging into it last week, he found the snow well preserved and hard enough to pack the ice cream freezer.

Miss Edith Collins, who has been employed as a History teacher in the Hastings, Neb., city schools, arrived Saturday morning for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Collins. After a short visit here, Miss Collins will go to Chicago, where she will take a six weeks course in the Chicago University before returning to her school at Hastings.

He plans to begin work with the White & Myers Chautauqua system June 10. Mrs. Ross and daughter will be at her parents' home in Gentry, Mo.

C. M. Manley sold his interest in his farm located southwest of Barnard Wednesday to his wife, Mrs. Manley, and on Thursday morning purchased the M. M. Baker property located just east of town. The consideration in the second deal was $1,600, possession to be given within thirty days. Until he takes possession, Manley will visit at Siam, Ia., and other places. Mrs. Manley and son, Roy will run the farm which she purchased from Manley.

She leaves her husband and a large family of children. This is the first death in the Allen family. Mr. and Mrs. Allen formerly lived in Nodaway county, later moving to Kansas.

The Editor's two-year-old son, Brooks Dale, while playing in his yard last Tuesday found and drank a quantity of coal oil. As he at once threw up, no serious damage resulted, other than an irritated throat.

Henry McGrath, an old resident of Graham, came last Tuesday evening to visit his brother, Isaac. He is looking good for a man of his age.

Hughes, with some old friends of the Mineral Springs, was here a few days ago from Shannon City, Iowa—90 miles distant—from which place they had driven to secure some Springs water for a sick man. They say they are anxious to see the Mineral Springs sanitarium rebuilt, as they are at loss where to go when they become sick.

Next Week At the Movies

At The Electric.

A film adaption of Jack London's celebrated "The Star Rover", telling of the adventures of a tortured physician into the mysterious regions of the unseen, in the effort to clear up a strange murder, will be seen Monday and Tuesday as the feature attraction.

The picture is a C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., production, released by Metro. Albert Shelby LeVino adapted the story for the screen, and Edward Sloman directed it.

The story deals with a young physician wrongly accused of a murder and tortured by a bulldozing police inspector. His soul goes roving among the stars to the scenes of previous reincarnations, and this is made use of by his fiance to have his subconscious mind reveal the happenings of the night when the murder was committed.

Critics have pronounced it an exceptional picture.

"Cinderella's Twin", the Metro special production which comes Wednesday and Thursday as the feature attraction, has the double distinction of having been written by the well-known Luther Reed and scenarioized by him.

It has been described by a critic who saw it as "a wonderful picture having the Cinderella motive with a satisfying seasoning of lambent humor, whimsicality, charm and thrilling romance."

Viola Dana has the stellar role of the little queen of the kitchen who accidently finds herself gazing on the Prince Charming of her day dreams. The scullery maid is whisked into a dazzling party by a gang of notorious jewel thieves, as their catspaw. She drops a slipper containing the key to a safe and brings on the catastrophe.

As in the tale of the original Cinderella, so in the screen romance, it is necessary to fit the slipper to just that fraction of hair that permits the wearer to spill it into the path of the oncoming Prince Charming at the psychological moment. This is one of the climaxes of the picture.

Wanda Hawley stars in the Realart comedy, "The Outside Woman" which will be shown Friday night. According to the review of the picture by Herbert Caryl, there is comedy galore in the picture and the entire action centers about a woman who has a mania for exchanging purchases. The fun centers around an Aztec idol which the bride exchanged with a peddler for a scarf, not realizing that it was a priceless treasure. Climbing the apartment house fire escape the bride finnally gets it back at the price of a kiss from an artist.

Romance, adventure and thrills follow close upon one another in Elaine Hammerstein's latest Selznick Picture "The Miracle of Manhattan" which comes for Saturday.

The leading character, a young society woman, portrayed by Miss Hammerstein is, in the short space of one hour, placed in the position of a friendless waif who is forced to work in a cheap cabaret to save herself from starvation. She attracts the attention of the leader of one of the most dangerous gangs in the city and he constitutes himself as her protector. This rouses the jealousy of another woman and the girl becomes the centre of a maelstrom of unbridled passions. The outcome of it all is presented in a manner that is, to to say the least, surprising.

At The Empire.

Maurice Tourneur has succeeded admirably in putting Robert Louis Stevenson on the screen in his remarkable film version of "Treasure Island", which will be shown Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Towneur has done the wise thing. He has followed the story of the Stevenson classic faithfully in its details and thus has not only produced a picture that is packed with red-blooded adventure, but which is rich in the spirit and lore of the private days.

By his vivid depiction of the fight at Benbow Tavern at the very opening of the film, Mr. Towneur catches the interest of his audience. From there the scenes move swiftly to the acquisition of the treasure chart by young Jim Hawkins, his hiding away on the vessel as a stoway, the mutiny, fight with the pirates and final success of the search for the hidden gold.

Shirley Mason has the role of Jim and makes a most charming youth indeed. Lon Chaney is Merry and Pew, Charles Ogle gives an excellent portrayal of Long John Silver, and other members of the cast also enter into the story with sympathy and spirit. It is a Paramount Artcraft picture well worth the attention of everybody, whether they be a regular screen fan or not.

"Treasure Island" confirms Maurice Tourneur's right to be called a master at producting great sea stories on the screen.

Maurice Tourneur's picturization of "The County Fair" will be presented for two days, Wednesday and Thursday. There will be a special matinee Wednesday afternoon for the children.

The story is founded upon the famous play of the same name in which Neil Burgess starred for many seasons all over the world. It is the typical study of New England rural life with a loveable spinster for its central character attaining its humors, excitement and character studies at a county fair and reaching its climax in a thrilling horse race where Cold Molasses runs for the fortunes and happiness of the story's protagonists. There are infinite sidelights and bucolic studies which lend it that simple appeal which is always so interesting in dramas native to the soil of New England.

In addition to its natural appeals the story is presented with a cast noteworthy by the fact that at least three of the principals have been elevated to stardom in motion pictures since their work in this instance. These favorites are the famous freckle-faced kid of filmland, Wesley Barry; dainty Helen Jerome Eddy, noted for her work in girl parts and David Butler who has forged to the front as a rugged young leading man. Other principals are Edith Chapman William, V. Mong, John Steppling, Charles Barton and Arthur Housman.

On Friday and Saturday, Bryant Washburn will be shown in one of his typical comedy dramas, "Full House". Not much advance information is available on this picture, other than it has made a decided hit in the cities where it has been shown. Some critics have said that Washburn is at his best in this picture. There will also be a Sennett comedy shown in addition to this feature picture.

GETS AN EIGHTH MORE WHEAT.

Invention, Not Patented, Controls Loose Smut at Small Cost.

With equipment costing only $5 the Missouri wheat grower can now use the hot water treatment for the control of loose smut. The invention will not be patented and may be built on any Missouri farm. It has been developed and proved entirely successful within the last ten months by the field crops and farm engineering departments of the Missouri College of Agriculture, and is just as effective as the treatment recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture by the same medium of hot water but in apparatus costing not less than $375 and necessitating the concerted action of an entire community.

Loose smut, according to W. C. Etheridge of the field crops department, is frequently the most serious factor reducing Missouri wheat yields. Its spores develop inside the wheat grain and are therefore not reached by formalin treatment that is effective with sinking smut, the spores of which are on the outside of the grain. To kill the spores of both loose and stinking smut—both inside and outside the grain—it is necessary to immerse the wheat in hot water. Both the time and temperature of this immersion must be very carefully regulated so that the smut spores shall be killed and the wheat germs left uninjured.

The problem that was to be solved, therefore, was the development of equipment with which the wheat coul be kept for ten minutes immersed in water at a temperature not greater than 131 degrees Fahrenheit nor less than 126.

The new equipment found effective at Columbia consists merely of a 50-gallon barrel in which the water is brought up to 131 degrees and a wooden box in which the wheat is treated one bushel at a time after having first been soaked six hours in cold water. At the outlets of both barrel and box provision is made for the insertion of a thermoter. After the wheat has been warmed so that the water flowing into the box at 131 degrees escapes from the bottom at 126 degrees the wheat is left thus immersed for ten minutes. It is then turned out on a drying floor and another bushel is put in its place to receive similar treatment.

A field of Poole wheat nearly ready for the binder at the Missouri Experiment Station grew from seed that was treated with this apparatus last fall. Though the original seed was from a field having at least ten per cent infestation with loose smut there is only a trace of infestation in the resultant crop. As a check against these results a farm field not far away was sown last fall with seed from the same original stock but without treatment, and this field now shows no less than 15 per cent of its heads entirely destroyed by loose smut.

CALLS SPECIAL ELECTION TO VOTE ON AMENDMENTS

People Will Also Decide on August 2 on Calling of Constitutional Convention.

Jefferson City, June 11.—A proclamation was issued by Gov. Hyde yesterday calling a special election Tuesday, August 2, for three purposes:

First, to determine whether a convention shall be called to draft a new constitution for the state.

Second, to vote upon an amendment to the constitution removing all disabilities of women as to holding state, county or municipal offices.

Third, to vote an an amendment to the constitution providing that interest on the $60,000,000 road issue must be paid out of the revenue derived from the registration and licensing of motor vehicles.

The two constitutional amendments were submitted with a clause making it optional with the governor whether they should be submitted to the people at the special election in August or at the regular election in November, 1922.

It will be necessary for the special session of the legislature, which convenes next Tuesday to provide the necessary machinery for holding the special election as Attorney General Barrett holds there is no provision under the exisiting statutes for the machinery of a special election. The governor will call the matter to the attention of the legislature in a message.

Judge John I. Williamson of Kansas City and former Secretary of State Cornelius Roach, named by the Democratic State Committee to investigate the senatorial redistricting, and if they found flaws to tie it up in the courts, are said to have reported that the redistricting was done in accordance with the laws and that there was no hope of attacking it successfully in court. This is in agreement with the statement by Attorney General Barrett, in which he scouted the idea that the redistricting might affect the validity of laws passed at the coming special session. The legislators elected will hold office for their full terms, Barrett says, and the redistricting would affect only those elected in future and cited law and decisions to sustain his view.

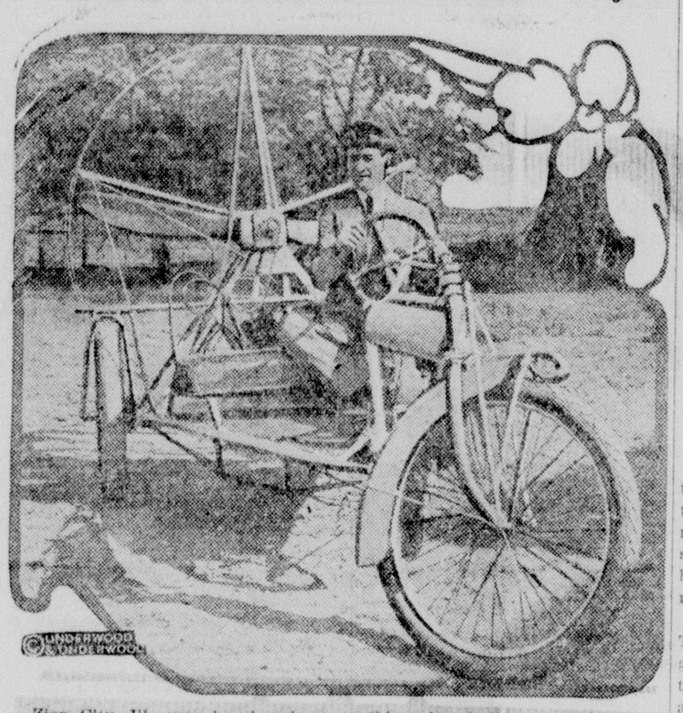
Speedy Machine Built in Zion City



Zion City, Ill., may be slow in some things but it has a speedy lot of newspaper correspondents. Edgar W. Croft, one of the live correspondents of that city, has just completed a new motorcycle equipped with an airplane propeller which will drive him from Zion City to Chicago in almost airplane time. His machine has a twin cylinder motor developing about 15 horse power, has motorcycle wheels, is braced like an airplane, has upholstered seats for two, elaborate propeller shields, and an auto steering wheel with universal joint.

CONGRESS FACES NEW WHISKEY ROW

DRYS WANT TEETH PUT IN VOLSTEAD LAW.

MANY LOOPHOLES ESIST

Beer and Light Wine Sentiment Grows Though Many Drink One Way, Vote Another.

By W. H. Atkins.
(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, June 10.—A fight between the "wets" and "drys", begun through moves to amend and make more rigid the provisions of the Volstead law, threatens now to involve both sides of the Capitol in a whiskey row.

The run battle has many angles. The biggest fight develops out of Congressman Volstead's drive to tighten the "screws" on whiskey as a medical agent and to outlaw beer.

Other phases of the whiskey embroglio, grew out of vigorous moves by certain "wets" leaders to obtain "liberal" amendments to the dry law. One of these, fathered by Congressman Edmunds, of Pennsylvania, would allow American ships to carry liquors aboard. Mr. Edmunds' proposal invites strong support from Senators and Congressmen. Shipping interests urge its passage on the ground that American ships are suffering competition with foreign liners. Passengers are taking passage on foreign owned boats, because liquors are sold and served on them.

Verbal pyrotechnics will come soon in debates over beer. The Treasury is holding up regulations which would authorize manufacture and sale of medicinal beer.

Protests Pile Up.

Congressman Volstead claims Congress by an overwhelming majority, will declare beer is not a medicine, and will specifically bar it. Volstead's fight is the result of an opinion by former Attorney-General Palmer, holding beer sales by druggists to be legal.

Breweries, drug manufacturers and leading anti-prohibition organizations have entered strong protests against the Volstead measure. The protests against the Sdmunds' ship measure are less numerous, although it is strongly opposed by the Anti-Saloon League.

Few will deny that in Congress there now exists greater support for light wines and beer. The real mystery is whether or not new accessions to the beer and wine standard will vote as they drink or think. In all wet and dry contests at the Capitol the votes on liquor questions have shown, invariably, a large percentage of "wets" lining up with "dry"advocates, upon measures to clamp down the lid tighter upon the rum traffic.

Three Gallons of Wine for the Sick.

The "wets" in the new skirmishes may be somewhat appeased by the fact that the new Volstead bill leaves wine as a medicinal drink, which may be prescribed, along with whiskey and other "spiritous" liquors. It is probable, however, that when the finishing touches are put on the bill, before it comes to the President for his signature, it will contain many restrictions, limiting the freedom of doctors in prescribing wine for patients.

Prohibition Commissioner Kramer has suggested that it should be permissible for physicians to prescribe wine in amounts equivalent in alcoholic content to whiskey allowed. Kramer figured that as patients are permitted to have three pints of whiskey a month, a just proportion of wine would be three gallons a month, gauged by its smaller content of alcohol.

The "drys" are aligned for a terrific attempt to jam their amendments through, and they freely predict they have enough votes to win. But the winning will come probably only after some spicy talkfests in both chambers, with a mixture of wrangling always to be expected in liquor debates.

FORMER CHAMPION THINKS HIGHLY OF CHALLENGER

Carpentier Can Box and Posseses Punch Enough to Defeat Any Man, Corbett Says.

By James J. Corbett.
Former World's Heavyweight Champion.

Written Expressly for the International News Srvice.

Copyright, 1921, by International News Srvice.

New York, June 11.—Some people who have been watching Georges Carpentier in his workout at Manhasset are picking him to lose to Jack Dempsey on what he has shown with curious visitors in his camp.

Why this should be the case I cannot understand because from my talks with him and from what his record shows is a certainly that he can box and that he posses a punch heavy enough to defeat any man living if he lands on the right spot.

I am going to be among those present at Manhasset today. I am eager to see the Frenchman in action and I hope he unlimbers some of his best punches, but I doubt that he will. As a matter of fact Carpentier isn't showing anything. It is his prorogative to do his real work in privvate and so far he has taken advantage of it.

All of the accounts I have read from Manhasset have continued hints that Georges bears the ear marks of a boxer that has a lot to learn. But wait. A real clever boxer can easily fool spectators. He can show as much or as little as he cares to. He can appear slow footed, conceal his best punches and make himself appear to be a "sucker" for a left or a right hand or both, for that matter.

I have not yet seen Carpentier in a real workout but I am convinced that any boxer who was good enough to stand off Joe Jeanette as far back as 1914 must have something, for in those days Joe was a fine boxer and a strong hitter.

Dempsey is much different than Carpentier, Essentially he is a fighter and no matter when he gets into action he boxes as he fights.

At the Atlantic City camp he has shown practically every punch that is a favorite with him, because it is natural for him to do just that, and he isn't trying to conceal anything. He believes he can defeat Carpentier and he is going into the ring July 2 to accomplish this purpose as quickly as possible. But even Carpentier, should he study Dempsey in action, would not have a positive line on how the champion might be expected to meet his (Carpentier's) attack in a real fight. No man can be positive regarding what to expect from on opponent. Every fighter must make his fight as it comes to him or as he seen openings for offense. All the advice in the world is useless before a battle actually gets underway.

Mrs. WAGNER of PALM BEACH

Tells Girls How She Found Relief From Pain

West Palm Beach, Fla.—"When I was 19 years old I was irregular and I had such terrible cramps it felt like a knife going through me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was cured. After I was married I had the same trouble caused by the added work of farming and heavy washings so I told my husband to get six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and by taking it regularly my troubles ceased and now I never have a pain or ache, and am regular. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think every young girl should take it. You can publish this letter and it may be the means of helping some other girl or woman."—Mrs. MARY M. WAGNER, Box 759, West Palm Beach, Florida.

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely and when pain exists something is wrong which should be set right. Every girl who suffers from monthly cramps should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

CHESTER WHITES OF PIG CLUB MAKE BEST MOTHERS

Duroc-Jerseys Have Largest Litters but Lose Half Their Pigs—Poland-Chinas Good

Chester White sows make the best mothers, it is shown in data compiled by County Agent Roy A. Kinnaird from information furnished by members of the Nodaway County Boys' and Girls' Pig Club. Although they did not have large litters, they saved a larger number of pigs than any other breed.

Duroc-Jerseys had large litters but only saved half of the pigs. The nineteen gilts purchased by members of the club last fall averaged ten pigs to the litter, saving five. Thirty-one Poland-China sows farrowed an average of seven pigs each and they also saved five. Nine Hampshires averaged seven pigs and saved four. The eight Chester Whites averaged only seven pigs but saved six of them.

County Agent Kinnaird has been to see all of the boys and girls in the Pig Club during the last few days. He now has a complete record of the number of pigs in every litter. He is sending out a letter today to the members of the club advising them about the feeding of the pigs and warning against a mange that is prevalent on some farms.

The boys and girls of the club bought the gilts last fall. The pigs they raise will be entered in an exhibition here this fall, when prizes will be awarded.
